(By Associated Press)
HONOLULU, March 31.—The navy sent 240 fighting planes into the air and dispatched numerous surface vessels to the northwest of Oahu island today in a gigantic search for six bluejacket fliers who vanished last night in an old-style bombing plane.

Eight Sailors Hurt

At the same time it became known that eight sailors had been injured, three seriously, and four boats wrecked in the landing of 1400 men at Lahaina roads in the current Pacific maneuvers. Nine boats were swamped in the surf.

The bombing plane disappeared only a few hours after one of the navy's newest bombers crashed at sea, also off the northwest shore of Oahu. Five of the seven men aboard were lost.

Bodies of two of the victims were recovered. One was identified as Lieut. L. O. Crane of Nashville, Tenn., in command of the plane. The other body was not identified.

In previous tragedies during 1938 maneuvers, seven men were lost when a patrol bomber vanished at sea and 11 were killed Feb. 2 when two patrol bombers collided in squally weather in night operations off southern California.

Boat Identified
The flying boat which vanished yesterday was identified as TVP18, in command of Lieut. Charles Signer.

Naval spokesmen said the plane undoubtedly was forced down at sea. The plane was lost while maneuvering with five other aircraft through bad weather which made flying conditions extremely hazardous.

One of the planes which did return was lost more than an hour.

Hold Three Youths
In Akron Robbery

CANTON, March 31.—Three young men, one critically wounded by a revolver bullet, were charged today with an Akron gasoline filling station robbery in which they obtained about $60.

Deputy Police Inspector Gilbert Mosely of Akron said the suspects had confessed. They were booked, he said, as Raymond Kane, 21, near death in Mercy hospital here from an abdominal wound; Nick Mosie, 22, and Joseph Zahachewsky, 19, all of Canton.

Their arrest, Mosely said, followed the appearance of Kane at the residence-office of Dr. A. R. Olmsted of Canton. Kane admitted he was wounded while fleeing from the gasoline station of E. A. Krannich at Akron, Mosely said.

Later police took Mosie and Zahachewsky into custody. They told officers, Mosely said, that one waited in an automobile while the others held up Krannich. The latter said he wounded one of the intruders as they fled.

F.D.R. Denies Dictatorship
Ambitions As He Lashes At Reorganization Bill 'Bogies'

Letter To Friend Labels Charges Against Offices
Measure As "Silly Nightmares"; Urges Approval of Proposal

(By Associated Press)
WARM SPRINGS, Ga., March 31.—President Roosevelt, charging organized opponents of his government reorganization program had "planted bogies under every bed," asserted in a letter made public today he had "no inclination to be a dictator."

The letter, addressed to an unnamed friend under date of March 29, urged approval of the measure "in its present form" and replied to charges that the legislation would make him a dictator.

"As you well know, I am as much opposed to an American dictatorship as you are, for three simple reasons: (A) I have no inclination to be a dictator. (B) I have none of the qualifications which would make me a successful dictator. (C) I have too much historical background and too much knowledge of existing dictatorships to make me desire any form of dictatorship for a democracy like the United States of America."

The letter was made public by Secretary Marvin McIntyre shortly before 2 a. m. There was no explanation for the late release except that the President made up his mind to issue it before midnight and it required almost two hours to prepare it for the press.

Visits Fort Benning
The President made his decision while resting from a 120-mile motor trip to and from Fort Benning late yesterday to inspect the troops and equipment of the noted infantry post. Later today he planned to lunch with the officials at the marine camp here and then pay a visit to a resettlement project in Pine mountain valley.

The name of the Presidents correspondence regarding reorganization was withheld because McIntyre said in a prefatory statement "he did not write for publicity purposes."

The letter was dated the same day the President asserted at a press conference that senate passage of the reorganization bill proved that body "cannot be purchased by organized telegrams based on direct misrepresentation."

In the communication today he recalled that when he proposed the legislation more than a year ago all parties and factions agreed on the need of such a measure, but that a year later "a carefully manufactured partisan and political opposition to any reorganization had created a political issue—created it deliberately out of the whole cloth."

Examples of "Bogies"
As examples of the "bogies" he contended it had been planted by the opposition he said it had been charged that the army engineer corps was to be abolished "in spite of the fact" that congress alone could determine who will do river and harbor work, and that the forestry service was to be "hamstrung—hamstrung I suppose by the best friend forestry ever had in the United States."

He mentioned other like charges and added: "I cite these merely as examples of a score of equally silly nightmares conjured up at the instigation either of those who would restore the government to those who owned it between 1921 and 1933, or those who for one reason or another seek deliberately to wreck the present administration of the government of the United States."

Referring to the bill's provision making executive orders on bureau shifting subject to disapproval by congressional "joint" resolution within 60 days, the President said (Continued on Page 8)

Beardmore Named
Air Mail Chairman

Postmaster A. E. Beardmore has been appointed chairman of the 18th congressional district to arrange for an observance of National Air Mail week from May 15 to 21.

This appointment has been made by Postmaster M. F. O'Donnell of Cleveland, who has been designated as chairman of the committee on arrangements for Ohio.

The national observance will commemorate the twentieth anniversary of the inauguration of air mail service, instituted by the post office department May 15, 1918.

Objectives of the campaign are to educate citizens in the use of air mail, showing its progress, dependability and value. From this it is hoped that increased revenue will make possible the expansion of air mail service.

Canton Motorist
Faces Damage Suit

CANTON, March 31.—A suit for $35,000 damages in connection with the death of Harriet Hoey, 16, was filed in common pleas court today against Samuel Peiman.

Peiman is under indictment awaiting trial on a second degree manslaughter charge. He is charged with having driven the automobile which struck and fatally injured Miss Hoey in front of the Mount Marion academy on the Canton-Massillon road, Feb. 17.

Appeal Is Planned

SPRINGFIELD, March 31.—Appellate court had notice today that Harry Chapman and Harry and Henry Dingleline, father and son, would appeal their conviction of first degree murder in the slaying of two officers in a gun battle at nearby Crystal lake following a holdup. The trio now awaits execution in Ohio penitentiary.

Adams' Testimony

LISBON, March 31.—The fate of Burl Rogers, 28, accused of the slaying of Clarence Dickey, helper on an East Liverpool milk wagon, rested in the jury's hands today.

The jury received the case at 10:15 a. m. after Judge W. F. Lones, in a 24-page typewritten charge, pointed out that there are three possible verdicts.

Of these, the defendant hoped for the last—that of acquittal. The two other verdicts mentioned by Judge Lones are murder in the first degree and murder in the first degree with a recommendation of mercy.

The jury was recalled at 11 a. m. for further instruction from the judge, who said that the testimony of Dudley Adams, Ohio penitentiary convict and convicted in the same crime, should be received cautiously.

"The jury," Judge Lones said, "cannot convict Rogers on the uncorroborated testimony of Adams."

Following a noon recess for lunch, the jurors returned at 1 p. m. to the courthouse to resume their deliberations.

The jurist, in his lengthy charge to the jury, referred frequently to sections of the general code which relate to laws governing crimes like the one in question. A copy of the charge was handed the jury foreman.

"Whoever purposely, and in an attempt to perpetrate a robbery, kills another, is guilty of murder in the first degree, and shall be punished by death unless the jury recommends mercy," the judge read.

Conviction of murder in the first degree carries a mandatory sentence of death in the electric chair. The sentence, in case Rogers is found guilty of second degree murder, is life imprisonment, without hope of pardon.

"NEW FORMULA"

But If Franco's Forces
Take Barcelona, None

(By Associated Press)
The guiding subcommittee of the Spanish non-intervention committee, representing major European powers, gathered today and received a new British formula for withdrawal of foreign soldiery from the 20-month-old civil war.

It was the group's first meeting in two months, and the problem was much the same as a year and a half ago, except that the war itself was much closer to settling the question than bickering representatives of Britain, France, Germany, Italy and Soviet Russia.

No Need in Few Days
Much depended upon how long the Barcelona government could hold back insurgent armies stabbing eastward at the heart of government territory. Within a few days, perhaps, no formula for withdrawal of foreign soldiery will be needed.

That seemed to be the view of Generalissimo Francisco Franco's strategists as they directed twin thrusts eastward—one against Barcelona and the other toward the coast southeast of the capital.

Lerida, 80 miles west of Barcelona, was a battered pawn in the contest between government forces and an insurgent army trying to isolate it and push on toward the coast. Lerida suffered destruction (Continued on Page 4)

SEVEN SUCCUMB

Cancer Treatment Investigation Under Way
In Florida

(By Associated Press)
ORLANDO, Fla., March 31.—A seventh woman died today while a coroner's jury assembled medical witnesses in an investigation of a series of deaths which followed injections of a serum in cancer treatments.

Mrs. F. E. Mooner, 63, of Winter Park, Fla., succumbed early today. Six women who had been given injections of a serum in cancer treatment since it was restricted to physicians and not sold over drug store counters.

Dr. T. A. Neal said the seven dead and the four presently ill had been given injections at his clinic. The serum came from one bottle. Physicians said one other person might have been treated from this container.

As a coroner's jury began an inquiry, in which the Federal Food and Drug Administration, the American and County Medical associations and the board of health joined, Dr. Henry Connell, Canadian physician who discovered the serum, expressed belief that the bottle had been contaminated.

His belief was echoed by Dr. Neal, who said he had such faith in the serum "I would not be hesitant to inject it into my own body if I became afflicted with a cancer."

Not Sold Over Counter
Dr. Morris Fishbein, spokesman for the American Medical association, said in Chicago he did not expect many deaths from use of the relief, product since it was restricted to physicians and not sold over drug store counters.

Fishbein said the association had declined to approve use of the serum and had warned against its use.

The victims who died yesterday were Mrs. Jack Sweetman, Mrs. L. J. Jackson and Mrs. W. R. Thompson of Orlando; Mrs. W. C. Braswell of Holopaw, Fla.; and Mrs. Elizabeth Funderburke of La Grange, N. C.

The total relief allocation in Columbiana county for the ensuing month is $20,164.31, it is announced. The amount corresponds with the March expenditure.

Statistics show 1,318 relief cases in the county at the present time. 541 less than a month ago. Persons, or individuals on relief in the county, number 4,539, which is 1,842 fewer than the last tally.

The total relief allocation in Columbiana county for the ensuing month is $20,164.31, it is announced. The amount corresponds with the March expenditure.

COUNTY SCOUTS
TO PLANT TREES

Will Turn Soil for 3,000
Trees at Reservation
Saturday

The Boy Scouts of Columbiana county will celebrate the first week of spring by planting trees at McKim reservation on Saturday.

Three thousand trees will be delivered Friday from the state nurseries at Marietta and 100 Scouts will be prepared to start work at 8:30 a. m. Saturday, under the direction of Scout Executive Chas. E. Felton.

Five hundred of the trees are black walnut, 300 white pine and 200 Scotch pine. They will also transplant native hemlock from sections of the camp to the rocky hillside overlooking the old stone house.

This will be the third tree planting on the reservation. Some of the first planting are now four and one-half feet high.

Last summer the OGC boys transplanted a memorial grove of older trees. The pine grove is the daylight hiding place for three beautiful deer, seen often by the Scouts. Last Saturday a group of Salem Scouts were thrilled at the sight of two of them as they were aroused from their hiding place.

The Scout organization hopes to see the herd multiply and the pine trees will make an ideal hiding place in future years.

Alfalfa hay and salt was provided for them during the winter months. The reservation of 130 acres is posted by the state as a game refuge and wild life of all kinds is on the increase.

Sheriff Installs
Detectophones In County Jail Cells

LISBON, March 31.—Detectophones, the latest scientific development in crime correction, were installed Wednesday afternoon in the county jail to aid Sheriff Harry Gooney in the management of his wards.

The device consists of six units—five diaphragm boxes and a master box. Placed in the bull pen and cells they reveal all noises to the officials in charge of the jail. By using the master box the sheriff or his deputies may communicate with any part of the jail without leaving their chairs.

Prisoners also may communicate with the office by moving a lever on the unit. They can not, however, prevent their conversation or any noise from reaching official ears if the officers wish to "tune in."

Columbiana county is the second district in the state to install the apparatus. Belmont county recently purchased the equipment and on a visit there the sheriff was so impressed with its advantages he ordered the units for installation here.

The detectophones are expected to prevent fights and attempted jail breaks. In the latter case the sound made by a saw or file is plainly discernible through the master box. Fights among the prisoners will be even more easily detected.

(By Associated Press)
Five tornado-strafed midwestern states counted 32 persons killed and nearly 250 injured today as unofficial estimates of the damage passed the $1,000,000 mark. Hundreds were homeless.

The twisting storms, laden with hail and rain, struck hardest in central Illinois, where at least 10 were known dead. Next hardest hit was southeastern Kansas, where seven, including three children, were killed.

The Kansas storm struck about noon yesterday. It started in northeastern Oklahoma; later knifed into southwestern Missouri. Five were known dead in Missouri storms.

Separate Storm Hits
About sundown what apparently was a separate storm twisted across Illinois from the southeast, dipping to earth in the Pekin area. Rushville and Astoria also were hard hit.

Another twister lashed at Heber Springs, Ark., killing four persons. Then it swung up through southeastern Missouri, accounting for three of Missouri's dead at Poplar Bluff. An earlier Arkansas blow had killed a woman at Conway.

The three-mile wide Illinois storm left an estimated 85 persons injured.

Rushville was without light or telephone service.

Doctors and nurses were rushed to Pekin, where more than 250 houses were destroyed. The Pekin fire station and the Chicago and Northwestern railroad depot and roundhouse were demolished. About 150 passenger and freight cars were strewn in fragments alongside tracks.

Inured from towns around Pekin were being concentrated there. Sixty were taken from South Pekin, a village of 500 five miles south.

Total Loss Unestimated
Total damage in Illinois was not estimated, but Police Chief Paul Smith of Alton, where the storm struck later, said damage there would exceed $200,000.

Columbus, Kas., bore the brunt of the Kansas-Oklahoma-Arkansas-Missouri storm. All seven Kansans known dead were killed there. A strip ten blocks wide was virtually leveled. At least 50 buildings were destroyed and 100 persons were injured.

Sheriff Fred Simkin of Cherokee county said 200 families were homeless.

Quick work by teachers saved 100 pupils at Highland grade school in Columbus. The building was virtually wrecked. Near Cheyopa, Kas., Miss Virginia Sappington led 20 pupils out of her rural school and ordered them to lie in a ditch. The building was heavily damaged.

Rain Adds Threat

Three inches of rain added a threat of floods in Oklahoma and Kansas. There were no fatalities in Oklahoma, but 15 persons were injured in the five counties the storm covered. The village of Hollow was razed.

The Kansas storm swept on from southwest to central Missouri. A farmer was killed in Boone county, Missouri, when his home collapsed, and a woman was killed at Lebec, when her truck by lightning.

Some 75 persons were injured at Heber Springs, Ark., 60 miles north of Little Rock.

Flood warnings were issued in northern Arkansas when the White and Ouachita rivers rose on the heels of heavy rain that accompanied the wind.

Deadline Is Near
On Auto Licenses

Police Chief Ralph Stoffer today issued instructions to members of the police department to arrest all motorists found driving their automobiles with old 1937 plates after the deadline expires at midnight.

State highway patrolmen here, likewise, will be on the alert to detect cars without the new white and black licenses, which advertise the Northwest Territory celebration.

The state bureau of motor vehicles announced this morning there would be no extension of time for persons seeking to get by for a day or two on old plates.

If you plan to drive the family car tonight with 1937 tags, you'd better arrive at your destination before midnight, is the officers' suggestion.

FROSTBITTEN APRIL

An early spring may stimulate the poet and be a boon to young love and middle aged rheumatism, but it's one long frostbite to fruit growers.

They won't be able to sleep soundly of nights till May day. Even after that they'll toss on their cots. There can be frost in May. 'Way back in '59 there was a killer in June.

It's a certainty there will be a frost in April—almost. If and when it happens that will be disaster. Those warm March days, those warm March rains, wonderful to see but none the less unseasonable for the pleasure they brought, have fooled nature into early budding and blossoming.

There is no joy in Mudville—even less than that in Painesville—over one of the gentlest of all Marches. Fruit growers, especially, have watched the unfolding of one more spring with a jaundiced and frostbitten eye. They are as certain as they are of fuzz on peaches that there will be a killing frost in April to spoil everything.

What a thrill it would be to fool them! Write to your congressman and see if something can't be done by the WPA before the money runs out.

KEEPING A GOOD RESOLUTION

Memories long enough to reach back to the good resolutions laid down when the liquor problem was returned to the states recall that one of the finest of all was the liquor industry's promise to keep its own house clean.

The industry had a big idea there—an appreciation of the importance of moderation and self-discipline which helped materially to bring about repeal of the 18th amendment. That was five years ago.

Since then, the liquor industry has been on the spot continuously in its practices. It has been subjected to close scrutiny and challenged many times by its friends, sometimes with cause. But at the same time there have been encouraging signs it was keeping its promise.

One of the signs is the aggressive policy of house-cleaning being followed by the Stark County Retail Liquor Dealers' association. "We can rid this business of several things which plainly are threatening to its future," a spokesman for the association said this week in connection with a drive for rigid enforcement of laws which are for the benefit of the liquor business.

This is an answer to persons who have insisted that state liquor control cannot work. If it fails, it will not be by default of the enlightened part of the liquor industry.

"DO SOMETHING"

The popular demand on government in 1932, reaching a climax in 1933, was "Do something!" Government responded with a huge spending program (recovery) and an ambitious legislative program (reform).

A growing demand on government in 1938, growing more insistent with each setback of business, is "Do something that will produce results!"

The country is not resigned to the cruel, hard course of deflation from which it took a detour beginning with 1933. Neither is it resigned to taking the same detour and ending up again where it started.

There is slight official or private inclination to return to large scale government spending for recovery. Only shallow thinkers and subversionists refuse to see that pump priming with public money is a fallacy—that it brings neither a net increase in purchasing power nor recovery, but will bring bankruptcy if continued too long.

Current thought, including that of businessmen as well as key politicians, is that the government can stem deflation and stimulate recovery by lending money.

The people lack buying power, which can be created only by productive employment. Productive employment can be created by opportunities to produce goods at a profit. Production demands capital. Therefore, capital must be furnished.

Political thinking, unfortunately, usually stalls at that point. It is not enough to make credit available to enterprise. Banks already have more loan money than they can dispose of.

There must be borrowers who will be able to repay loans and interest. Before there can be borrowers there must be confidence to give men courage to make commitments. There must be opportunities to make money before capital can be employed to make jobs. That's the capital-profit system.

Enterprisers continue to be short on confidence and long on credit. It will do government no good to supply the latter unless it can supply confidence, too.

It all goes back to 1933 when government responded to "Do something!" with a dual program—recovery to newsmen after midnight at Warm Springs, Ga., and charged organized opposition to the administration's reorganization program had "planted" bodies under every bed.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic senate leader, in terminating the letter "a very admirable statement," said it was one "the sincerity of which would be conceded by everybody who knows the President."

House leaders quietly canvassed the membership to determine how it will vote on the measure, which was up for debate in the house today.

Speaker Bankhead said the poll was the usual method of learning sentiment on major legislation and did not indicate that any uneasiness and reform. Failing to bring about recovery by the methods it chose, the new deal now is willing to try new methods for reaching that goal. So far, it has shown no sign of being willing to modify its attitude on reform.

Dependent on business enterprise for survival, the government continues to create the impression that it is hostile to businessmen. Recovery actually is being stifled by the stubborn whims and prejudices of politicians and their advisers.

A recovery program which didn't work can be revised. Likewise, there shouldn't be anything sacred about a reform program which hasn't been successful. That program doesn't need to be scrapped, merely modified, with the understanding that nothing further will be added to it until recovery has progressed to the point where business can survive any additional surgery that may seem necessary for the country's welfare.

THE STARS SAY:

For Friday, April 1

Very lively and propitious circumstances prevail under the interesting planetary configurations. There may be much stirring in the launching of new projects, but possibly the major energies may be concentrated on social, sentimental or other private interests. Friendship, courtship or marriage should flourish under this vibration, with functions, celebrations and gifts figuring conspicuously. It should be a day of merriment and happiness.

If This Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may expect to encounter a very lively year, with the forces and energies under high stimuli for action. These may, however, be centered on personal rather than business objectives, as the vibrations may enliven social, sentimental, romantic and friendly indulgences. There may be a wedding, with bounteous gifts, and a full complement of joy and gaiety.

A child born on this day may be energetic and lively enough, but it may direct its forces and faculties to the social, friendly, humane or sentimental domain of life rather than the sordid or commonplace. It may be artistic, gracious and a lover of beauty, even in most practical application.

existed among the leadership over the bill's chances of passage. Senator Burke (D., Neb.), a leader of senate forces who fought the reorganization bill, said he was "astounded that the matter has gone to the point where the President found it necessary to refute the charge that he had ambitions to become a dictator."

COLUMBIA, S. C.—A new high in motor vehicle registration in South Carolina was reached during February when 351,738 were registered with the state highway department. The total represented 13,962 units more than listed February last year.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland, New York City.

MUMPS

Mumps is something more than a laughing matter. It is an acute infectious disease with the familiar inflammation and swelling of the parotid gland. Though a common affliction of children, an amazing number of adults suffer from it.

The parotid gland is located on the side of the face, under the jaw, and just below the lobe of the ear. When infected it becomes swollen and painful. The doctors call the ailment "parotitis."

Although the disease has been known for centuries, the actual cause is still undiscovered. It is probably due to a "filterable virus." By this I mean that the causative germ or organism is so small that it cannot be seen even with the aid of the most powerful microscope.

The disease is most common in school children, among whom it is likely to appear in epidemic form. It flourishes in crowded places, such as the schools, barracks and aboard ships. During the World war many soldiers had mumps.

Not Trivial It is most likely to occur in children between the ages of five and 15. Although it rarely attacks infants, it has been known to appear in old age. It must never be accepted as a trivial disorder, because the infection may lead to serious complications.

The victim first notices a slight but painful swelling in front of one or both ears. This rapidly increases until the entire face becomes swollen out of all normal proportions. Headache, general discomfort, fever and chilliness may be noticed before the swelling appears.

The swelling is firm, elastic and painful to pressure. Even the eyelids may become swollen. The pain is made worse by every movement of the jaw.

Do not regard it as a trivial thing. The disease is highly contagious and therefore the young patient must be kept apart from other children. It is best to keep him in bed, especially if fever is present. Activity can be resumed after the fever has disappeared and the swelling decreases.

The old-fashioned idea of wrapping a piece of cotton or flannel around the face is quite all right, but cold compresses are more likely to promote the comfort. An alkaline mouth wash twice a day is helpful. Your doctor will prescribe the necessary medicine.

Dr. Copeland is glad to answer inquiries from readers who send an addressed, stamped envelope with their questions. Address all letters to Dr. Copeland, New York City.

No Fooling

BOSTON—Franklin park zoo and South Boston aquarium will be ready tomorrow to answer all telephone calls for "Mr. Fox" or "Mr. Fish."

City officials said one worker at each place had been detached from regular duty to answer April Fool's day calls.

They'll answer unknowing victims of practical jokes with a single sentence: "I'm sorry, sir, you're speaking with the aquarium (or zoo)."

ROOSEVELT'S ANTI-DICTATOR LETTER CALLED "FAKE"

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Foes and friends of the administration's reorganization bill termed "a perfect fake" and "an admirable statement" today the letter in which President Roosevelt asserted "I have no inclination to be a dictator."

Representative Snell (R., N. Y.), the house Republican leader, used the "fake" expression when he told reporters the President's letter to an unnamed correspondent was "purely an effort to get the front page" and "get people's mind off" the controversial reorganization bill.

Snell added that "I don't see what there was to get people up in the middle of the night for. He's said that a million times."

Mr. Roosevelt's letter was given to newsmen after midnight at Warm Springs, Ga., and charged organized opposition to the administration's reorganization program had "planted" bodies under every bed.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic senate leader, in terminating the letter "a very admirable statement," said it was one "the sincerity of which would be conceded by everybody who knows the President."

House leaders quietly canvassed the membership to determine how it will vote on the measure, which was up for debate in the house today.

Speaker Bankhead said the poll was the usual method of learning sentiment on major legislation and did not indicate that any uneasiness

CHAPTER XV
Mose recognized his protégé and laughed. "Oh, I dunno, Sam. He ain't so bad. He jis' don't know nothin' 'bout dis heah trabin racket, das all."

"Well—go on, go on—steam yo—se'f up takin' caah ob him an mebbe yo'll git a nickel, too. But say—git dis heah. Dat bride and groom—ain't it, what's in yoh cah—his wuss. Yoh watch and see when he pays his tip dat his wife's lookin'. He's one ob dem birds what laks to show off to his wimmin folks how generous he is; but when dey ain't lookin', he'd put de silvah in his pocket an' de towels in his suitcase! Would yoh believe it, dis molinn' when he breafras' check was two dollars, he gives me fifty cents. She was watchin' him close when he done took de change off'n de plate. Well, de lunch check was three dollars, and ah thinks to make'sf, Sam, dis heah am a good customah, so yoh treat him right! Boy, ah exerted mah-self and gib 'em elegant service. Well, he pays de check wid a five dollar bill and ah gives him a nice assortment ob change. He begins to pick it up while ah holds mah breath until deys fifty cents left. Den, by Joe, he gibs his wife a quick look an' she's busy readin' 'bout de Grand Canyon scenery on de back ob de menu cahd, so he quick picks up all but one dime! Kin yoh still feachah dat?"

The recitation called forth a round of tooth-gleaming laughter. Sam commented again, "Yoh-all got some folks what'll help to make up de average, though, ah! say dat. Dey's a beautiful little lady what am a sight foh tiahed eyes—sorta red-brown halah and smiles all de time. Guess she done made a crush already on a smalt young fella she come into lunch wid. He's all right, too. Annudah couple come in together dis noon, too, dat wasn't togetherah dis mornin'—big blonde baby wid blue eyes and a lodah guy what looks wise and don't talk much. Dey shoh ob palah off quick on dese heah limited trains."

"Ain't dat one reason foh limited trains, ah's askin' yoh?" winked Mose. "Well, ah's got to be goin' back. Dat ol' lady in numbah six will hab de bell woaoh out of ah don't."

As Mose anticipated, the bell was ringing shrilly and number six was up in the box when he reached his car. He hastened to Mrs. Sanders.

"Where have you been—sleep?" she demanded sharply. "I shall complain to the company about you when I get to Los Angeles. There are plenty of men who would appreciate having work, enough to give the passengers service."

"Sorry, ma'am, but ah was havin' a bite o' lunch. What kin ah do foh yoh-all?"

"I should say 'a bite,' she snapped. "Well, bring me a table, and don't be all day about it!"

When he had gone, she crossed the aisle and addressed Jaxie with a suggestion of a smile. "Would you like to make a fourth for a rubber of bridge? The two ladies in the next section will play."

Jaxie exchanged glances with Kirby, who indicated the nearest encouragement. He did not want her to join the women at all, but he knew that Jaxie was the kind of person who tries to please everyone and harbors malice toward none. That was part of her sparkling disposition. He had no wish to influence her now.

Her smile for Mrs. Sanders crinkled in the corners of her eyes and twinkled at the corners of her mouth. "Why—yes—of course, thank you. Did you rest well this morning?"

"Well enough," she snapped. "Did you get your work done?" addressed Kirby.

"Oh, yes, thanks," he nodded. He had risen when she approached Jaxie's section, and remained standing in the aisle.

"Well, I didn't tell you that you couldn't use your seat," she reprimanded him. "You act as if I drove you out of your section."

"Oh, not at all!" he assured her. "It just happens, fortunately for me, that Miss Cameron and I have found interests in common and we've had a very pleasant day. In fact, I'm grateful to you for precipitating our acquaintance. I'll go into the lounge while you have your game."

Her eyes followed, with reluctance, his retreating figure.

Mrs. Sanders won the rubber, bridge being her one cherished interest in living. She deplored the stupidity of her opponents and called Jaxie severely to task as her partner, whether she bid or not.

Her delight was making trump and playing the dummy hand, which she managed to do three hands out of four, and won that also.

The Misses Yates and Colbin were apathetic participants to whom a game of cards, won or lost, was a trivial incident. When one of them was dummy she exasperated Mrs. Sanders by talking incessantly; and when they were playing it amused them to make an error.

"I'm no gambler," Miss Colbin boasted, "and it's a good thing, because I never have any luck. But even if I did, I wouldn't approve of it. I don't believe in taking chances on anything."

"I'm sure of that," Jaxie thought with amusement. "And you wonder why you miss so much of life, I suppose." She triumphantly fingered for Miss Colbin's nine of hearts trick with her ten, because the timorous lady wouldn't take a chance on playing her king to force Jaxie's ace.

"Oh, I guess I should have taken that," she regretted, "but I thought you still had the ace, and I thought you would play it."

"I should, had you played the king, and that would have made your jack good for a trick. As it is, I'll take an extra one. That is one time when you should have taken a chance."

The little man in khaki and boots passed through the aisle, glancing briefly at the four. Miss Colbin blushed suddenly.

"What do you think of the un-outh people on this train? I never saw such a sordid lot. Would you believe it—that tramp of a looking fellow actually tried to speak to me this morning. I call such presumption an insult—tried to start talking to me about the scenery. I just glared at him and turned my back. The wonder of it was that he was man enough to take the hint and leave me alone. He might voiced a heated senate debate. Mr. Roosevelt told reporters Tuesday that senate passage of the bill "proves that the senate cannot be purchased by organized telegrams based on direct misrepresentation."

Senator Johnson (R., Calif.) declared the assertion reflected on every opponent of the measure. Senator Wheeler (D., Mont.) declared it reflected more on Mr. Roosevelt.

Senator Shatters (D., N. J.), an administration supporter, said the President was referring to "the purchase price of sending some of the opposition telegrams which deluged senators. He said he was weary of having the President 'jumped on and abused about every word he says.'"

In the house there also were rumblings against the President's statement. Representative White (R., Ohio) said "purchased" was a strong word, and asked:

"May we not apply the use of the same term to the favors which are peddled on Capitol Hill by Mr. Roosevelt's agents whenever any legislation is before the congress in which he is particularly interested?"

WOULD PENALIZE BIG SURPLUSES

Want to Find Some Way To Prevent Improper Accumulations

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Members of the senate finance committee, nearly through with their revision of the house tax bill, proposed today increasing penalties against corporations which pile up big surpluses in an effort to dodge taxes.

The committee already has eliminated the house provision for a modified undistributed profits tax, but Chairman Harrison (D., Miss.) told reporters:

"We would like to find some way of preventing any improper surplus accumulations."

Under the house bill, if a corporation is found to be accumulating surplus for the purpose of tax avoidance by shareholders, it would pay 25 per cent on the first $100,000 of its undistributed net income and 35 per cent on net income in excess of $100,000.

Besides the surplus accumulation provision, the committee has made a decision on another major proposal—broadening of the income tax base.

Members predicted privately the committee would reject a suggestion by Senator La Follette (Prog., Wis.) that the present income tax exemption for married persons be cut from $2,500 to $2,000 and the exemption for single individuals from $1,000 to $800.

In an all-day session yesterday, the committee approved a tax exemption formula designed to encourage the liquidation of public utility holding companies, struck out a 25-cent addition which the house had approved for the present liquor levy of $2 a gallon, and disposed of numerous minor provisions.

Business men have shown the greatest interest in the tax bill, many of them contending that revision of present revenue laws would be immediately helpful.

Exiled Austrians Return to Homeland

SALZBURG, Austria, March 31.—Austrian Legionnaires came home today as disciplined heroes from their five-year exile in Germany.

These Austrian Nazis fled across the border in 1933 and 1934 as outlaws, tattered tramps, fugitives from the laws of Engelbert Dollfuss and Kurt Schuschnigg's independent Austria.

They returned a carefully drilled, motorized corps, neatly uniformed as Nazi storm troopers. How many returned was an official secret, but one estimate placed 14,000 in the line that thousands of cheering, weeping home folk greeted.

They were perfectly disciplined—which tended to set at rest rumors that their return would bring vengeful action.

They crossed the Austrian border—now stripped of customs barriers—at Rott, near here, in a chilly rainstorm. Only a handful saw the actual crossing.

Recital Sponsored By Alliance Group

The Alliance Music Study club will sponsor a recital by Samuel Hoiles, member of the Brooklyn Music School piano department and well known pianist, on Friday evening in the Immanuel Reformed church in Alliance.

The recital, in which the pianist will be assisted by Mrs. Louise Shem Wilcox, prominent Alliance soloist, will open at 8:20. It is open to the public. A silver offering will be taken for the benefit of the Alliance City band.

Hoiles has an outstanding musical background, having studied under Norman Fraumeni and Herman Gruss of Mount Union College Conservatory of Music. He also studied under Richard Oppenheim. Later Hoiles studied under Seigmund Etozowski, the suggestion of Paderewski.

The greater part of his musical training was secured at the Diller-Quaile School of Music in New York City. After his study, he joined the faculty where he taught for two years.

May Adjournment May Be Barred By Three Obstacles

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Congressional leaders foresaw today three possible obstacles to a May adjournment—the wage-hour bill, the Hungarian debt settlement proposal, and railroad legislation.

Democratic Leader Barkley (D., Ky.) said he hoped the senate could dispose of the tax revision bill, the $1,100,000,000 naval expansion program, and the proposed $1,000,000,000 relief measure in April.

This would clear the senate calendar, he said, unless consideration of Hungary's debt program should result in a lengthy senate debate on the entire war debt question.

Rep. Rayburn (D-Tex), house floor leader, said he thought that chamber could complete its present program by May 1. But other members said that if efforts to revive the wage-hour bill are successful, the picture may change. A subcommittee is drafting a modified measure in the hope of winning greater support.

Legislation to aid financially-distressed railroads still is in the nebulous state, although President Roosevelt indicated this week he might send a message to congress soon on the subject.

In three months, congress has enacted only two major pieces of legislation, the crop control program and the housing bill. In addition to most of the annual appropriation bills.

Linked with senate debate on the 1938-39 relief bill probably will be proposals for new methods of dealing with unemployment. Chairman Byrnes (D-SC) of a special investigating committee said he expected a report soon.

BRITISH SHOW "NEW FORMULA"

But If Franco's Forces Take Barcelona, None Will Be Needed

at the hands of both defenders and attackers.

A movement to straighten the insurgent line close to the French frontier cut government soldiers off from their bases east of Jaca and 1,000 fled over the Pyrenees for sanctuary in a little French mountain hamlet. They said 1,000 others were following their lead.

Proposes New Formula

Informed persons said Britain proposed a "new formula" for deciding when belligerent rights should be granted to the warring factions and restoration of control on Spanish frontiers.

The Chamberlain government was eager for quick action because it faced an opposition motion of censure on its Spanish policy in the house of commons Monday.

The French Popular Front cabinet, hampered by strikes and political tension, delayed consideration of its financial reform plan to let political opposition cool. Cabinet sessions called for tomorrow were put over until Saturday, which postponed parliamentary debate until Sunday.

Officially the delay was ascribed to prolonged conferences over a strike of 30,000 metal workers.

In China, hand-to-hand fighting raged on in the Tientsin-Pukow railway sector of the central front. For 17 days the Japanese and Chinese have been locked in an indecisive struggle. The heaviest fighting was at Taierschwang.

DEFICIT FEARED IN SCHOOL FUND

Decrease In Sales Tax Receipts Expected To Cut State Foundation Income

COLUMBUS, March 31.—State school officials expressed fear today that Ohio's school foundation program would end the year with a $12,000,000 deficit.

Their prediction followed a state tax commission estimate of nearly an $11,000,000 decrease in 1938 sales tax receipts.

Dr. David H. Sutton, school finance director for the state department of education, said that on the basis of the tax commission's figures the schools would lose approximately $6,000,000. This, he asserted, would be piled on top of a $5,700,000 deficit carried over from 1936.

Dr. Sutton said notes totaling $5,800,000 would be met on April 1. After that, he added, it would be up to the legislature to provide the schools with security for their notes.

The tax commission announced yesterday that because of a general business decline and a 53 per cent reduction in date in automobile sales, sales tax revenues could be expected to drop from $50,901,000 in 1937 to about $40,000,000 in 1938.

After administrative costs are deducted from 1938 collections, $6,000,000 will go for poor relief, the schools will get 60 per cent of the remainder and 40 per cent will be returned to local governments on the basis of tax duplicates.

The school foundation program costs Ohio $48,867,567 in 1937.

New Party Is Born In Mexican Upturn

MEXICO CITY, March 31—A new "Party of the Revolution" came into being today to carry on the nation's Mexico for Mexicans program, looking toward a society without classes in a socialist state. The new party of laborers, farmers and soldiers is an intensified government party, taking over the organization of President Cardenas' former national revolutionary party. Barba Gonzalez, head of the old party, was named president of the new.

Its proposed platform, presented in convention last night, carries a call for "progressive nationalization of big industry" like expropriation of the $400,000,000 foreign-owned oil industry.

The taking over of the oil industry from 17 American, British, and Netherlands owners brought vigorous United States representations asking how Mexico would pay indemnity.

A special session of congress will take up the oil question April 11.

Theater Attractions

Deanna Durbin is the singing star of "Mad About Music," which is the attraction tonight, Friday and Saturday at the State theater.

Deanna is cast as a fatherless girl, attending a private school in Switzerland. Her mother is an American screen star, famous for her ingenue roles. Her manager has convinced the star that her future on the screen would be ruined if the public knew she was a mother; hence she can not write to Deanna, nor can the child admit who her mother is.

In Sad Plight

The child keenly feels her plight as the other children boast of their parents, and, to make herself appear equal to them, she has invented a fictitious hunter-adventurer father from whom she receives letters (written by herself), which she proudly shows to the other students. But finally she is forced to produce a father. She selects Herbert Marshall as her male parent—and then the complications follow thick and fast.

Gail Patrick is cast as the screen-star-mother, with William Frawley as the business manager. Arthur Treacher comes in for his share of the comedy work as the secretary-vallet to Marshall. Christian Rub is Deanna's confidant, friend, and accessory in her deception. Elizabeth Risdon and Nana Bryant are the sisters who keep the school in Switzerland.

Young Stars Get Chance

Three youngsters have important roles in the production. These are Marcia Mae Jones and Jackie Moran, in the roles of Deanna's friends, and Helen Parrish, who is her enemy.

Deanna sings four songs in the production, three of them, "I Love to Whistle," "Serenade to the Stars" and "Chapel Bells." The fourth is "Ave Maria," by Gounod.

At the Grand Friday and Saturday, patrons will see "Partners of the Plains," a new Hopalong Cassidy adventure story with William Boyd in the leading role. Russell Hayden, Harvey Clark and Gwen Gaze have featured roles.

The pictures, "Daredevil Drivers" with Beverly Roberts and Dick Purcell, and "Night Spot" with Parkyakarkus, Allan Lane and Joan Woodbury, conclude tonight at the Grand.

F. D. R. DENIES DICTATORSHIP

Hits Back at Enemies of His Reorganization Measure

If such a resolution were passed he would "in the overwhelming majority of cases go along with carefully considered congressional action." He added: "I can think of no cases where the President would not gladly yield to a clear expression of congressional opinion."

Two Reasons For Passage In giving two "cogent" reasons why the bill should be passed in the present form, he said a "concurrent" resolution turning down presidential orders—which some opponents have proposed—was questionable constitutionally because it was only an expression of congressional "sentiment" and could not repeal executive action taken in pursuance of law.

A "joint" resolution must be approved or rejected by the President, whereas a "concurrent" resolution does not go to him for action. Some opponents favor the "concurrent" form to prevent the possibility of a veto, thus forcing congress to reject an executive order by a two-thirds vote.

The President said there were two methods of effecting a business-like reorganization—by "complex and detailed legislation by the congress" or by the chief executive doing it subject to disapproval by congress.

He said he would have been willing to go along with the first method, but attempts by congress to reorganize in the past had failed many times and "every responsible member of the senate or the house is in agreement that detailed reorganization by the congress is a practical impossibility."

Is This the Reason You Are Constipated?

If you're wondering why your bowels don't work right—stop and think about what you eat. Bread, meat, eggs and potatoes. All good nourishing foods—but all concentrated, lacking in "bulk." And you need "bulk"! Some food that forms a soft, spongy mass in the bowels—helps them move. If it's this lack of "bulk" that's causing your constipation, Kellogg's All-Bran is just what you need. It soaks up water and softens like a sponge. And this soft mass helps your bowels move. In addition, All-Bran gives you Nature's great intestinal tonic, vitamin B₁. Eat this crisp crunchy cereal every day, drink plenty of water, and enjoy happier days. All-Bran is made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.
